Joseph Pringle (2) of Richmond, son of Joel (1) of Fredericksburg

In a petition to Lt. Gov. Maitland, July 15, 1820:
"The petition of Joseph Pringle, Esq. of Richmond in the Midland District of this Province kindly sheweth:

"That your petitioner was in the Royal Army and employed on secret service during the American Revolution after which he settled in this province and has ever since remained therein."

The rest of the petition deals with difficulty in settling the affairs of the heirs of on, Pte. Adam Ramsay, a former member of the K.B.R. N.Y. who was accidently drowned near Kingston before he could earn sufficient money to bring to Canada his wife and two children, Mary and Caty. Caty had died but left a son and heir Wm.Fuhr, who had approached Joseph to see if they could obtain any money from the lot which had been assigned to Pte. Ramsay as part of his military pay (W.H. Lot 8 in 2nd Con. Fred. Add'l).

Supporting his petition was a letter from fellow members of the Lennox Militia certifying that Joseph was a Justice of the Peace of the Midland District and a lieutenant of the Lennox Militia, did serve in the K.R.R. in the Revolutionary War and was one of the first settlers of this country, and when the militia was first embodied in the County of Lennox, he was the first Sergeant in the First Company of the Regiment commanded by Col. Rogers and ".

Joseph Pringle of RichmondU.E. Son of Joel Pringle, Sr. U.E.

Obituary in the Christian Guardian, Oct. 30, 1833.

At Richmond, near Napanee on the 2 2nd ultimo Joseph Pringle, Esq. aged 77 years, 5 Months. Mr. Pringle was one of the first settlers in this District and was for many years a Justice of the Peace and an officer of the Militia. As a Justice, he was firm and impartial in his decisions. As an officer of the Militia, indefatigable in the discharge of his duty, as well during the late war with the United States as since. He was an indulgent parent and a good neighbour, and has left six children, 54 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren to deplore his loss.

Joseph Pringle was also the first Worshipful Master (1812) of the Napanee Masonic Lodge.

Pringles Came To Quinte Area

8 December 1976

At End Of American Revolution

On Sunday, 40 descendants of the late Sidney and Edith Pringle, of Selby, met for a family dinner at the Wayfare Restaurant, Napanee. Besidesan opportunity to visit and for the young people to get to know their cousins, they were entertained by Miss Jennie Pringle giving excerpts from her research into the history of the Pringle

Special attention was paid to the period of the American Revolutionary War when the patriarch of the family in Canada, Joel Pringle, or Prindle, as he was sometimes called, joined the Royal Rangers of New York led by Major James Rogers, together with all his sons, Joel the Younger, Timothy, William, Joseph and Doctor, and fought to keep the American Colonies within the British Empire.

Since the men were away with the army, the women and children had to run the farms which were in Albany County east of Lake George. They were subjected to much harassment by the rebels and finally were forced from their land and they had to seek shelter in nearby Fort Edward at the south end of Lake George. Later, when the fort was about to fall into the rebels' hands, they again fled down Lakes George and Champlain to Fort St. John's on the Richelieu Fort St. John's on the functional River inside Quebec. They arrived there in July, 1781, as shown on the ration list, and remained until the close of the war and final dispersal of the refugees to permanent settlements.

The Pringle families had lost everything and they could not return to their homes, so they agreed to go with the rest of the Rogers' Rangers to the Bay of Rogers' Rangers to the Bay of Quinte area. At that time, it was an unknown wilderness, far from settled areas and difficult to reach on account of the rapids in the St. Lawrence River.

The Rangers and their families travelled up the St. Lawrence in batteaux, camping on the shore at night. On arrival in Kingston in June, 1784; they drew lots from the deputy surveyor's hat. The grantee's name was written on the grantee's name was written on the proper place on a map which the surveyor had and a ticket of location was given to him. A copy of this map may be seen on the wall on the U.E.L. Museum at Adolphustown Park. The next thing was to find their future home in the wilderness. If it were on the water they were lucky as they could travel there by boat, but if inland the heavy forests made it difficult to reach. Major Rogers' Corps was assigned to Fredericksburg.

Joseph Pringle, the progenitor of the assembled group, drew a lot on the south shore where the Van Dyke farm is located now. William and Timothy were in the second concession of Fredericksburg Additional and Doctor and his brother-in-law John Dafoe, Jr. shared a 200-acre lot on the south shore of Hay Bay. The father, Joel, shore of Hay Bay. The father, Joel, and his eldest son, Joel the Younger, drew lots at the eastern end of Hay Bay in the fourth concession but they were never occupied by them. Joel moved to what was later Hallowell Township in Prince Edward and his son went Loughboro Township Frontenac County.

Owing to the need for more land for their growing families and also because they received further grants in other areas, many did not stay long on their original grants. Timothy's son, Timothy, went to Marysburgh, while his eldest son, also called Joseph, stayed on the original homestead until the 1840's when some went to Michigan and others to East Whitby. Other members of his large family went to Hastings County and the northern part of Lennox and Addington when the Colonization Road was put through. Doctor Pringle and his family also went to Prince Edward but the boys soon went on to Hastings and Daniel and Abraham finally ended up in Napanee.

Opened Township

Joseph, his family and some of his nieces and nephews practically opened up the Township of Richmond when it was surveyed as Hichmond when it was surveyed as the 10th township. He moved from Fredericksburg to a farm on the Deseronto Road just west of the Slash Road, where he built a two-storey framehouse which he ran as a country hotel. It was a busy corner where the inn stood and it was known as New Liverpool. It was thought it would Liverpool. It was thought it would become a shipping point for the whole area as the river ran deeply here, wharves had been constructed, and higher up at Napanee Falls the stream was rapidly being choked by sawdust from the saw mill.

Shadruff Huff, his next-door neighbour, had been given a licence in 1804 to operate a ferry across the Napanee River and the Justices of the Peace in Quarter Session had also set the fees. They were six shillings for a horse and rider, three shillings for a single person and one pound for a carriage or wagon and two horses or oxen. It was a fine spot to build an inn for weary travellers over the York Road which ran by its door.

Joseph was active in many ways. He was an officer of the First Militia, formed in Lennox when the War of 1812 threatened, and he and all of his six boys -- William, John, Richard, Simeon, Joseph and David B. -- saw service in the war.

John Ross Robertson in his book, "The History of Freemasonry in Canada" tells us that Joseph Pringle was the first Worshipful Master of the Masonic Lodge when it was organized in Napanee in 1812 and described him as a worthy man with a fair education, standing about six feet in height; a magistrate who had the courage of his convictions and assisted in the execution of his warrants. He was seriously injured by a blow on the head by a club when assisting with the arrest of some fruit stealers and never some fruit stealers and never completely recovered. In his obituary in the Christian Guardian, Oct. 30, 1833 issue, his age was given as 77 years and five months and date of death the 22nd ultimo and said that he was firm and impartial in his decisions as Justice of the Peace, indefatigable in the dicharge of his duty as an Officer of the Militia, an indulgent parent and a good neighbor. It also said that he left to deplore his also said that he left to deplore his loss, six children, 54 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren. Miss Pringle said that she is still trying after many years of research to find some of these offspring of the second and third generations. When one considers that Joseph had four brothers and one sister, all married, the magnitude of her task is almost insurmountable. There were few official records at that time and, if they existed, many have since been lost, destroyed or have since been lost, destroyed or lying unrecognized in someone's attic. The best authority are entries in family Bibles, but even in these the owner often began with his own birth date and did not show his parents' names.

Loyalists, not only for their efforts to keep their homeland within the to keep their homeland within the British Empire but also for the way they had established a new nation in the wildnerness, that he said a "Marke of Honor" should be bestowed on them to designate forever "the families who bad adhered to the Unity of the Empire and joined the Royal Standard in America before the Treaty of Separation in 1783". A list was to be made of their names and the letters "U.E." shown after them. Order in Council passed at Quebec Nov. 9, 1789). The list so compiled is of great value to genealogists and is known as the Old U.E.L. List.

Today the Registration of their descendants is still being carried on by the United Empire Loyalists' Association of Canada on provision of proof of descent from a U.E. ancestor on the original list.

Present at the dinner were the children of Sidney and Edith Pringle's first child, the late Olive and James A. Marshall victor in battle for Reeve

In the night of the long count, in Napanee, challenger Ernest Marshall made a successful comeback in town politics and polled 1,279 votes to unseat Reeve Glenn Herrington in Monday's municipal election.

With the defeat of Camden Reeve Duane Williams, by former Reeve Nelson Kennedy, reeve-elect Marshall, no stranger to County Council, emerges as a strong contender for the warden's post in 1977. He is a former Napanee deputy-reeve.

Mayor Lorne Smart fended off a bid by Deputy-Reeve Grant Clark and will occupy the Mayor's suite in the newly refurbished Town Hall. In Deseronto and Napanee results were not final until after midnight and Camden clerk, Larry Keech was at his desk until 4:45.

The other surprise in Napanee, was the strong support and election of Mrs. Evelyn Mandoles as one of the two Napanee trustees on the Lennox and Addington County Board of Education. For the second election in a row, being chairman of the county school board proved to be a hazardous role, as veteran trustee, Bruce Medd went down to defeat coming in a distant third, behind fellow incumbent John Munroe. In the 1974 election, then chairman Tom Tomkow was defeated in the school board election.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

This letter is going to Bath and I hone that it will be forwarded to you if you are now nicely settled in your new home in Kingston. The reason for it is to explain why my application to join the U.E.L. Association has not gone forward. I have run into an unforeseen obstacle and I would like your advice.

After careful search I have been unable to find a document that proves that Calvin D. Pringle, my great grandfather, was the son of Joseph Pringle and Deborah Dafoe. Family trafitions have always said so and we were shown his grave in Westnlain cometery and told that he was our great great grandfather and the son of the first Joseph U.D. who died near Napanee in 1833 leaving 6 children, 54 grandchildren and 21 great grantchildren.

Calvin's death was not registered at Ou en's Park, perhaps because he was buried in a private burying ground on his own farm. Wis son-in-law was the local undertaker.

The minister of the local church searched the old records but the burial records go back only to 1904 and Calvin died in 1902, according to a family bible. An older family bible was burned in a house fire.

I checked the comies of the Napan e Beaver and although the file is exceptionally good, in the issue following his death four pages were missing.

The Casey Paners edited by Herrington were read but in the volume in the PAO covering the first four books, no mention was made of the settling of Richmond Townshin. I thought there might be as Herrington drew rather heavily on Casey's notes for his "History of Lennox and Addington".

In 1836 Joseph purchased the n.w. quarter of lot 12 in the 9th concession of Richmond and four years before his death in 1869 he sold 20 acres from the south end to David Sedore for $300. In the same year he sold 25 acres to Calvin D. Pringle for $175.00 and at the same time deeded to his wife, Deborah, five acres at the north end of the lot on which the house stood.

In his will made Oct. 21, 1867 and registered 27th of July 1869 he gave to his "beloved wife Deborah all my real estate viz. five acres off the n.w. quarter of lot 12 in the 9th concession of the township of Richmond aforesaid, this said five acres being composed of that part of said quarter lot not conveyed to Pavid Sedore and Calvin Fringle.

He also continued: "I give and becuesth to each and every one of my lawful heirs the sum of one dollar currency to be paid out of my goods and chattels by my executors and the resideue of my goods and chattels I give and bequeath to my beloved wife Deborah to have and to hold the same to his or her heirs and their use forever and I do nominate and appoint Charles Pringle and Calvin Pringle of the Township of Richmond, County of Lennox and Addington to be my sole executors."

The witnesses were Charles Pringle and Abrham Pringle.

Since the land was left outright to his wife and the bequests were not a charge against the real estate there was no signing off by the family from which one could get the names of the children officially. Is there anywhere that a statement of the distribution of the estate would be filed? The bequests were only token ones, except to his wife.

Two years after her husband's death and three years before her own a deed was drawn up, and registered two years later, conveying her lot to Abraham for "$1.00 and love and affection". On the same date as the deed was registered, there was also registered the conveyance of the lot from Abraham to Calvin D. Pringle for $125.00. Abraham and his family went north in the county to engage in the lumbering industry and later died and was buried at Flinton at the ripe old age of 102 years.

I have traced some of the first Joseph's 54 grandchildren in Lennox and Addington, and in Hastings, Northumberland and Durham but have not discovered anywhere near the 54 quota.

So far in the marriage records which have quite recently come into the possession of the PAO I have not found a record of Calvin's marriage which just might show his parents' names. His eldest child, my grandfather was born in 1838 and at that time there was no Methodist church in Napanee and although there was an inglican church in Napanee it as serviced until 1849 by the Anglican missionary to the Mohawks, but was considered part of the Bath charge. The other churches, Selby, Roblin, Leinster were not built until much later, although services were held in school houses, according to the census report.

Is it possible to be accepted by the U.E.L. Association without further proof than this? Since so much of Richmond was settled by the Pringles it seems too bad not to be officially registered. I am most anxious to have my two nephews apply for membership since they are the only two direct male descendants of Miles Wesley Pringle, in their generation.

I hope that you are enjoying your new life style and trust that this will not invenvenience you too much.

I certainly enjoyed my meeting with you. My research into the family history continues in Ottawa and in Toronto.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. H.C. Burleigh, Bath, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

From your Wast store of knowledge and extensive research, I wonder if you would have the time or be able to help me solve a few of the mysteries I have encountered in my investigation of the Pringle (Prindle) U.E.L. family, members of the K.R.R. N.Y. who came to the Bay of Quinte area in 1784 as members of Major Rogers' group.

The Claims records state that there were five families of Pringles who fled to Fort dward taking all the possessions they could save in one wagon. These are: Joel the father, and Deborah his wife and sons Joel Jr., Timothy, William and Joseph. In the Pringle party there was also a Doctor Pringle who was alone. This is confirmed by the official list of N.P.P. N.Y. people made up in January, 1784, at Sorel before they proceeded up the St. Lawrence. Only Joel Sr., Timothy, William and Joseph made claims.

- 1. Would you know the maiden name of Deborah the wife of Joel 1.?
- 2. Do you know the given name of Poctor Pringle?

 I have been unable to find a given name on any document. The bantismal records show only children of Doctor and Margaret Pringle and the children's land petitions asoffspring of a registered U. . L. show only children of Doctor Pringle.

On your list of sequestered lands in the Napanes Historical Society annear the names of Doctor Pringle, Joel and Joseph. Would Poctor Pringle's claims have been settled elsewhere - other than the 300 acres of land granted to him? If so, would his given name appear on a document?

3. What is the relationship of Doctor Pringle to Joel 1. Since he names two of his children Joel and Deborah that seems to suggest a blood relationship.

The American records show Joel's children as Joel 1746, Timothy and William 1750 and Joseph 1753. Doctor Pringle, whose children were born after arrival in Canada, appears to be too young to be Joel Jr., unless the first Joel died in infancy and another child bore the same name. This was not unusual, as Timothy had three sons named Timothy, two dying in infancy.

Can you help me sort out the Jocls I have come across?

Joel 1 and wife Deborah - no problem except date of his death.

Joel 2. Who is he.

There is a land petition from Joel Pringle (1797 as a member of the K.R.R. N.Y. asking for land additional to the 100 acres on which he settled in Fredericksburg which was granted giving him 200 acres at Whitby, lot 10, sixth concession. At the same time his wife Mary, as a daughter of John Woodock, a register d U.E.L. received 200 acres in Whitby, lot 27, concession 9, which later came into the possession of Francis S. Pringle. Joel's grant was sold in 1816. He made his claim as a soldier and did not need to say whose son he was.

Joel 3. There is another petition from Joel of Townsend in the late 1830's and granted in 1840 in which he states he is the oldest living son of Joal Pringle of Fredericksburg and had never received any land. This was granted.

The 1851 census of Townsend shows a Joel Pringle, age 60 a blacksmith with wife Priscilla and children San'ord (21 and single and *lexander 24 (married). I assumed him to be Joel, the son of Doctor Pringle and Margaret, who was baptised by Langham in 1788. (consus ages vary a great deal from census to census). If so, Pr. Pringle's name would hav been Joel.

Problem 2 - Lana Pringle, daughter of Poctor Pringle, married Richard Princle, son of Joseph in 1805 or 1806. In McDowell's marriage records she is called Jane. Other places she is called Lana. Magdalona (Lana?) was bantised by Langham in 1791. In June 14, 1866, there is aletter on file written by L.W. Nicholls to the Commissioner of Crown Lands inquiring if Lana Pringle, wife of Richard Pringle and daughter of Joel Pringle U. .L. had drawn lands as a daughter of U.E.L.

So, is Lana the daughter of Joel and Mary, not Doctor Pringle and Margaret, or is Doctor Prngle the son Joel and the Joel with wife Mary a different relationship to him?

Also claiming land as a child of Joel Pringle was Marrcy Pringle in January 1799. Another child, Lois, married John Dafoe. Also listed as a son of Joel Pringle, deceased, was Francis S. in his netition granted in 1808 for land in Camden. Is Francis the son of Joel & Deborah or Joel

This soundslike a jig saw puzzle. If you can help me any it will be greatly annreciated.

I read with interest your conducted tour of the descendants to Binnington and wished I had been with them. I also noted with great interest the news of the fiction you are working on. It is wonderful that someone is preserving this information which is so difficult to accuire.

If you wish to save time and just scribble an answer on this screed it will be greatly appreciated.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

In the summer of 1962, I visited you to obtain some genealogical data on the Pringle Family of New England in the 1600 and 1700's. You told me that you thought I was probably descended from a William Prindle (Pringle) who was born in Scotland and married in New Haven Vermont to a Mary Desborough on Dec. 7, 1655. You showed me from your records that the date of William's Will was Oct. 17, 1689 and the date of Probate of same was June 5, 1690. You also said that to obtain a copy of his Will, I should write to Hartford Conn.

I have now been able to prove through new information that I am indeed descended from William Prindle, and would like to have a copy of that Will you spoke of, so I wrote to:

The Registrar of the Surrogate Court

Hartford Conn.

This office did not reply directly to me but forwarded my letter to: The Connecticut State Library

231 Capitol Ave.,

Hartford,

Conn. 06115

Enclosed in my present letter to you is a copy of their reply to me plus copies of all the information which they sent me from the magazine The New Haven Genealogical Magazine. (You may keep this for your own records. I hope it may prove useful to you.)

Although the data they sent me was most interesting,

I still didn't have a copy of the Will so I again wrote to:

The Probate Court Municipal Bldg., 550 Main St., Hartford Conn.

They replied saying " The estate of William Prindle (Pringle) is not in the court. This district includes Hartford, Bloomfield, Glastonbury, Newington, Rocky Hill, West Hartford, and Wethersfield. If the deceased died in Scotland try:

Probate Court Town Building P.O. Box 94 Willimantic, 06266

I have now run out of addresses to write to for a copy of the Will. I don't think the Willimantic address would be any good as I am sure William died in the U.S. Can you tell me where you got the date of William's Will and the date of the Probate of same ? I am sure that must be the address that I need. Thank you for your help and interest, Replied heg.

I am,

Sincerely,

Ohrs de Lom

Dear Mrs. deLom:

In reply to your letter of November 6, 1969, no estate papers were found for the estate of William Pringle. The probate court record for the district of New Haven which included the town of New Haven at that date, may contain some entry. These records are in the library on microfilm only. They are not indexed and because of time limitation, the library staff does not undertake to search them.

Enclosed is information on William Pringle from Families of Ancient New Haven. New Haven, 1930; and your check for $5.00 which we are returning to you.

Very truly yours,

Robert & Kelline

Dr. H.C. Burleigh, Bath, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

I wonder if from your records as genealogist for the Bay of Quinte United Empire Loyalists you could help me out or tell me where I might get the information.

It is my intention to visit Scotland in the spring and I would like to travel around the section of the Border Country where the Pringles lived. I have been loaned a book written in Scotland on "The Records of the Pringles" compiled from official documents in Scotland and England.

I know that my people were U.E.L.'s arriving in the Bay of Quinte District in 1784 but do not know just where they came from, how long they were in the U.S.A. before coming to Canada, etc. and so am unable to trace back my particular branch.

My forebear was Joseph Pringle, who was the first settler north of the Salmon River between Roblin and Forest Mills with his wife Barbara (W.S. Herrington, History of Lennox and Addington). According to the same source his son Joseph was the first white child born north of the Salmon River. There was a land grant given, or confirmed, to Joseph Pringle of 100 acres on Concession I of Richmond Township May 6, 1797. I always had understood this was traded for the tract north of the Salmon River and a horse. However the Forest Mills tract may have been another grant.

My great grandfather was Calvin Pringle, son of Joseph (1789-1869) and Deborah (?)(1791-1875); my grandfather Miles Wesley (1838-1920); my father Sidney of Richmond Township (1865-1925).

J.F. Pringle in his book on the Eastern Townships quote from the Centennial List of Names Joel Prindle, Joseph, Timothy, William and Daetar Prindle, who settled in Fredericksburg. I understand that Joel was the father of Joseph, Sgt. Timothy and William; that Timothy appeared for his father Joel at the reparations hearings as his father was too old then to attend.

This sounds right by family tradition as it is said that the old grandfather was called "Jodey". Herrington in his book says they belonged to the 84th Regiment; Pringle that they were King's Rangers under Rogers.

J.F. Pringle mentions an Ensign John Pringle of the 84th. There is among the British Museum M.S.S. a letter written to Gen. Haldimand on 17th Jan. 1783 from Ensign John Pringle of the 84th Regiment, Carleton Island, inquiring about his commission, that he had been serving with the 84th Regiment since 16 July, 1776, and others were being promoted over him. He received his commission to lieutehant on Sept. 15, 1783, one week after the Declaration of Independence, and served until peace was signed in 1783. He then drops from sight in the Scottish records and the family property to which he succeeded in 1773 was inherited by his younger brother, Alexander (1747-1827) in 1790, who came home from serving with the East India company to take over.

If Ensign John Pringle, or correctly Lieutenant John Pringle, were a relative of the Joseph mentioned above, then I would know where to go from there.

Perhaps you can help me, or clarify the dates of the two Josephs. By the way, I am told, but do not have substantiation for it, that Joel Pringle came from Albany and that Joseph from Skeensboro County, New York State.

Yours sincerely,

Jennie Q. Orngle

Dear Miss Pringle:

Your letter of yesterday has just arrived. I hasten to reply before something happens to prevent it.

The records of the Genealogical Association of the May of Quinte do not contain much of value regarding the ancestors of our Loyalist families. Out main interest is in determining who is entitled to the honor of being classed as a descendant. We, of necessity, must leave such search by members of each family. Nowever, we are attempting to encourage such research, and ask that any genealogies be made available to our proposed museum

I apparently was chosen as genealogist of the Pranch because I have had an interest in Loyalist origins for many years, and because I have been collecting, in files, any information regarding these families which may come to hand.

and library.

I do not have much regarding the John Pringle who was an Ensign, and later Lieutenant, in the Toyal Highland Enigrants, otherwise known as the Sith Regiment of the Line. I assume that he is the person mentioned in one of the two lengthy genealogies in Eurite's Landed Centry, both being long resident in the south of Scotland.

As far as I know, there is no close relationship between these families and yours. It is evident that your first American ancestor was William Prindle, emigrant from Scotland, who is first mentioned in American records as "the Scotchman who lived at Mr. Allerton's." He took the oath of allegiance in 1651, married in 1665, and made his will 17 Oct., 1689.

You are fortunate in looking forward to a trip to Scotland. You should be able to discover the records of many Pringles while there, particularly as they were limited to the southern tier of Scotland. My wife's grandfather belonged to the Stuarts of Traquair, a short distance south of the town of Peebles.

I shall be interested in knowing whether or not you discover in "The Record of the Pringles" the name of William, "the Scotchman who lives at Mr. Allerton's."

I hope that this letter is of assistance to you.

Yours sincerely,

wed. Jan 23 1957

Are 57 Years Wed, Family Is Unbroken

Mr. and Mrs. John Pringle, of Toronto, is the father of six recently, have a remarkable record. no break in any of the families.

The marriage took place at Trinity United Church parsonage on January 10, 1900, Dr. A. J. Crothers officiating. Mrs. Pringle was formerly Mary Margaret Elizabeth Storr, only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Storr, of the vicinity of Forest Mills, and graddaughter of the late Elijah Storr, warden of the county in 1886. John Manson Pringle was born in the Roblin district, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pringle. The bride was attended by the groom's cousin, the late Miss Annie Pringle, afterwards Mrs. Charles Coehill, and the best man was the bride's cousin, the late Wilbert Storr.

Following their marriage, and Mrs. Pringle lived, for some years, on their 50-acre farm near Marlbank, Mr. Pringle working the land in summer, and being employed by the cement company at Marlbank during the winter. Because of the failing health of Mrs. Pringle's parents, the young couple left Marlbank and cared for the parents during their lifetime. Soon afterwards the Pringles bought the Alex Cummings place on the River Road and 12 years ago, because Mr. Pringle was in poor health, sold it to Aubrey Davis and moved to the house on Thomas St., where they now reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Pringle have seven children, 27 grandchildren, and 31 great-grandchildren. Simeon, the oldest, living in London, has 11 children and 13 grandchildren. Hazel (Mrs. Hilliard Barker, Mill St.) has a daughter with nine children and a son with one child. Carman, of Ardtrea, has two sons and five grandchildren. William,

Thomas St., who celebrated the children and grandfather of two. 57th anniversary of their marriage Nellis, owner of the Pringle Garage and Service Station, Dundas They have 65 descendants, with St., has a daughter with three children and a young son at home. Annie (Mrs. Curtis Asselstine, of Marysville) has a daughter of 16 and a son but a few weeks old. Olive (Mrs. Clifton Withers) resides on a farm near Morven and is employed at the hydro office. She has a son and a daughter who attend the collegiate here.

A family as large as this, unbroken by death, is rare indeed. Mr. and Mrs. Pringle attribute their good health and their interest in life to the fact that they have never had a chance to be bored. They are seldom alone. Some of the family are always coming home, and there is always a new baby to admire and love. As well as being a large family, it is a close-knit one.

Not all the family were at home for the reception, which was held on Wednesday, the day previous to the 57th anniversary, in order that those in business might attend. Mr. and Mrs. Pringle had not planned any celebration of the event, but the children who live near felt it should not go unobserved. Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Withers, and Nellis Pringle made the arrangements and the women assisted in receiving the guests. Two granddaughters, Mrs. Bryce Moore, of Selby, and Mrs. Glen Toppings, of Deseronto, served the refreshments. The home was bright with flowers which had been sent as gifts and Mrs. Pringle wore a corsage, also a gift.

Many gifts, cards, letters and telephone calls were proof of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Pringle are held. The crowd of friends who called during the afternoon and evening joined in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Pringle many more years of happiness, and promised to be present on the day, three years hence, when they will celebrate their diamond anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Pringle

Well Known Couple Wed 60 Years 2 Jan 1957

BY MRS. II. C. FILE

On December 23, 1896, at the home of the bride's parents near Selby, the late Rev. W. W. Peck, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Napanee, united in marriage Isabella, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Frisken, and Ryerson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Frisken, and Ryerson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pringle.

The bride chose shades of brown for both her wedding gown and for her going-away ensemble. Both were created by the Misses Alhson, dressmakers for the Robinson Co., and the hat was made in the millinery department of the same establishment.

The bridal gown was of soft brown wool with threads of silk in green and gold. The bodice was fitted, with a shirred front of shot silk which repeated the shades in the woollen material. The many-gored skirt was long and was full at the bottom. A peplum in bustle effect, stiffened with buckram and lined with shot silk, extended to the side seams, where it was met by a beit of brown velvet, wide where it joined the peplum on one side, and tapering to almost nothing as it extended across the front and met the peplum again. The high, tight velvet collar was lined with buckram and at the back a dainty frilling of white chiffon edged with lace framed the fresh young face. The sleeves were the popular leg-o-mutton. In/her haft he bide wore small flowers grown in a long-vanished greenhouse on Front St.

For travelling, the bride chose a diess of fan tweed, "with rows and rows of buttons" The coat was brown, not quite three-quarter length, with velvet collar All the accessories were brown. The tiny sallor-type hat was chenille, and was covered with trimming, including several ostrich tips and awing which repeated the colours of the wedding gown. She carried a sable muff.

After the reception, which was attended by 35 relatives and close friends, the happy couple left for a honeymoon which was spent visiting relatives. They travelled by horse and buggy.

On December 23, 1956, when this remarkable couple celebrated the diamond anniversary of that

Among them were three of the original guests, the best man, Wellington Sills; Mis. W. A. McLeod, and Fred Pringle. Adam Frisken Jr., was not well cnough to attend. A highlight of the day was the reception of a message of congratulations from Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth. Messages came, also from federal and provincial officials, and from friends from a fer away as Pasadena, California. Rev. Maurice McLeod telephoned from Winnipeg, Man, during the evening.

Many gifts were received, including flowers from people of the neighborhood and from the official board of Grace United Church. Out-of-town guests included Don Frisken of New Norway, Alberta, and Mrs. Fuller, of Watford, Ont, For the anniversary reception the home was bright with carnations and chrysanthemums. The table was centred by the three-tiered wedding cake, which the bride of 60 years had helped to make. It was flanked by pink candles in silver holders. In the afternoon two sisters-in-law poured tea, Mrs. Fred Pringle and Mrs. Adam Frisken. During the evening their places were taken by two nices, Mrs. Arthur McLeod, and Miss Carmelita Frisken.

Claimt. Says:

He was at St. John's in '83. Is a Nat. of A. Lived at Skeensboro; joined in '80. Served all the War. Produces his Discharge.

Had stock at Seth Sherard's house at Skeensboro. 1 horse, 2 swine, tools, corn, hay. When he went off with Major Carleton left these things behind.

923. Fimothy Prindle, late of Albany Co. Montreal, Sep. 28, 1787.
Claimt. was at St. John's in '83. Joined the Brit. in '80. Served all the War.

Claimt. resided at  kingsboro. Had a stock on some lands that happened to be vacant.

2 horses, 3 cows, 4 swine, 6 small do., tools.

When Major Carleton left Skeensboro these things were left behind, part destroyed. The Rebels had I mare. Thinks most of the things were destroyed by Major Carleton's Party before they retreated.

Wm. Frindle, Wits .:

Confirms this acct. of his Bros.' stock.

924. coel Prindle, late of Albany Co. Montreal, Sep. 28, 1787.

Prinothy Prindle, son, attends. His Father is very old & infirm, not able to attend.

He was at St. John's in '83. He came in ye year '80. Joined Major Carleton. Left his property at Keensboro & Kingsbury.

A quantity of wood, 3 Cows, 4 Horses, Hogs, furniture, utensils, cloathes. It was impossible to move the things. They had only 1 Wagon for 5 families.

Marginal Note:

The acct. of these 3 Bros. & Father seems true, but Q. whether we can allow for losses which happened from Major Carleton's retreat. They seem good men.

Wm. Prindle gave afridavit to the claim of James Jackson, late of Skeens-borough.

Dr. H. C. Burleigh, Box 9. Bath, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh -

Thank you for your letter of September 10th, and for going to the trouble of drawing out the location of the five cemetries, which has helped to clear some questions in my mind. I know you are a very busy person and I will try not to trouble you too often.

Judging from the information you have given me, I think it is most likely that the cemetery I am looking for is the one nearest to Hay Bay.

I am looking for the grave of Deborah Pringle, wife of Joel Pringle Sr. (I do not know her maiden name.) She died in 1890 at age 65 years, 8 mons. 18 days. Her husband Joel died a few years earlier and is very likely he was also buried there, but I have no date.

As you know, they were the parents of Joel Jr.b.1746, Timothy b.1750, William b. also in 1750, (twins probably) and Joseph the youngest b. 1753.

I should add here that I am a descendant of Timothy, and a memorandum has been passed down to me saying that " other Pringle ancestors were also buried at Loyalist's Point." It is quite likely that there may be some reference to some of these graves in Mr. Wanamaker's book, which I have not had the opportunity yet to look at.

I have often wondered where Dr. Pringle born in 1760, fits into the picture. Could he be a cousin or perhaps a younger brother of the four brothers mentioned above.? His wife's name was Margaret, and they apparently had a family of six, and Daniel was the 2nd youngest who ran a hotel in Napanee, was a stage keeper, and an auctioneer and a magistrate of some sort; and I am sure you could add many more stories about him!

Thank you for giving me the name and address of the publishers in Florida of Hazel Mathew's book. I will write to them if I do not hear from her.

I hope you will find the enclosed information about the Benedict family interesting. I feel that I was fortunate to have found it.

With my kind regards, I am

Sincerely

Corrock Lon.

I have been told by the person in charge of the history section at the main library on College Street, that the book published in 1870 about the Benedict family is not available in Canada, and they might be able to get a copy on loan from Albany N.Y. where it was published.

It is called "The Genealogy of the Benedict Family in America" and was written by Henry Marvin Benedict, whose name appears on page 645 of the attached pages.

These pages have been copies from vol.3 of a set of three books written by Clare Benedict covering the yrs. 1785 to 1923. I think it is called "Five generations of Benedicts" and was published in England. Vol.3 seems to be the only book in the set that refers to the family in The United States.

The reference to Jamaica was rather confusing to me until I found that there in a place called Tamaica on Long Island. I have found it quite interesting and I hope you will consider it a useful addition to your library.

Fourteen popes, scattered all along from the year 575 to 1740, have taken the name of Benedict on assuming the triple crown.

In England the name was made famous by a noble Saxon abbot in the year 628 and afterwards, who founded two monasteries and introduced great improvements in architecture and the polite arts. He, too, was canonized.

In Denmark, the prodigies of bravery performed by Benedict, the brother of Canute II. in defending the king, his brother, covered the name with honour. The list of eminent men who have borne the name in some of its forms in all Christian countries might be largely extended...

Erastus Cornelius Benedict (1870).

THE FIRST SETTLER.

Among those Englishmen who went into voluntary exile rather than endure the oppressions of Stuarts in the State and Lauds in the Church, was Thomas Benedict of Nottinghamshire. There is reason to suppose that his own remote ancestor had made England his refuge from religious persecution on the Continent. There was a tradition in his family that anciently they resided in the silk manufacturing district of France, and were of Latin origin, that Huguenot persecutions arising, they fled to Germany, and thence, by way of Holland to England. (There is a coat of arms with appropriate Benedict motto-Benedictus qui passiur-and statement that the family is of Silesian origin, bearing the titles of Count of the Banat and Baron of the Holy Roman Empirethe last German Count von Benedict having passed first to France, and then to England in the time of Edward VI.). It is said of Thomas Benedict that he was born in 1617, that he was an only son, that the name had been confined to only sons for more than a hundred years, and at the time he left England, he did not know of another living person of the name. His mother he had lost early, his father marrying for his second wife a widow, whose daughter, Mary Bridgum, came to New England in 1638 in the same vessel with Thomas, then in his twenty-first year. Soon after their arrival, they were married, and finding the society and that allows for Massachusetts Bay congenial, they resided in that colony for Island, Thomas Benedict, and others of like principles, found themselves, socially at least, in a condition not unlike that of the Union men in the South after the Civil War, and could not but regard the Territory as an excellent one to migrate from. At this time he had a numerous family, one of his sons was married and settled near him, still he took to Norwalk with him all in whose veins his blood ran... He must have been a welcome addition to the society of Norwalk to cause its people to make such haste to elevate him to official station...

He was Town Clerk until 1674, and after an interval of three years, was again appointed. His terms of service as Selectman cover seventeen years. His name is one of the forty-two who comprised the list of Freemen in 1669. He was the representative of Norwalk in the General Assembly in 1670, and again in 1675. In May, 1684, the General Court appointed him and three others to plant a town "Above Norwalk or Fayrefeild at Paquiage." The parties most interested asked that their settlement might be named "Swanfeild," but in 1687, the General Court denied their request and called it Danbury.

Besides the service of these more conspicuous appointments, he rendered much to his friends in an un-official and neighbourly way. His good sense and general intelligence, some scientifie knowledge and his skill as a penman, made him their recourse when papers were to be drafted, lands to be surveyed and apportioned, or disputes to be arbitrated. It is evident that very general respect for his judgment prevailed and that trust in his integrity was equally general and implicit. He seems to have been seldom or never without some employment of a public nature. Until his settlement at Norwalk, when he was nearly fifty years old, no one place appears to have held him long; and it is a remarkable thing that these ehanges of abode, each of which must have made him a newcomer, never prevented his immediate preferment, either in church or state affairs. That he was a man of enlarged views such as in this day are supposed to characterize statesmen, and that he had had the courage and energy to attempt to realize them is proved by his persistence in schemes designed to increase the power and expand the jurisdiction of the commonwealth he loved... His family participated in the Indian wars of the time and one was prominent perhaps in the most bloody struggle of all. His son Daniel in 1677, a time. These facts in the history of Thomas Benedict are verified by the testimony of Mary Bridgum herself, who lived to the age of one hundred years, and in her lifetime communicated them to her grandson, James Benedict of Ridgefield, Connecticut, who recorded them in 1755...

The separate colonies which afterwards formed that of Connecticut, had been founded under auspices peculiarly hopeful... Thomas Benedict seems to have been so far attracted by the moral or material advantages of this promising region as to have removed within its rigorous jurisdiction, but he soon sought the opposite shore of Long Island... Mary Bridgum names Southold as his place of residence and birthplace of their five sons and four daughters... He must have attained prominence as a citizen, for we find that when Uncas, the celebrated Sachem of the Mohegans, complained to the commissioners...because the Mohansick Sachem of Long Island had killed some and bewitched others of Uncas's men, and even Uncas himself, that body, at Hartford, Sept. 5, 1650, referred the matter with large powers to the famous "Captaine Mason" and others, and to Thomas Benedict of Southold to be adjusted...

There are traces of his presence in Jamaica as early as 1662... March 20, 1663, he was appointed a magistrate by the Dutch Governor Stuyvesant, an honour, it is to be feared, which he never requited by loyalty to the Dutch Government. Sept. 1663, we find him with other inhabitants of towns on the west end of Long Island, petitioning the General Court of Connecticut to be what, in our day, would be termed annexed to that colony. He was, in fact, one of the bearers of this petition to the court at Hartford, November 3, 1663... He held the office of Commissioner when the Dutch Governor Stuyvesant surrendered New York and its dependencies to the English under Colonel Richard Nichols... Colonel Nichols... required two deputies to a "General Meeting" to be chosen from each town... The delegates from Jamaica were Daniel Denton and Thomas Benedict. This is thought to be the first English legislative body convened in New York... Honoured and to some extent trusted as he had been by both Dutch and English governors of New York, it is beyond controversy that his heart had always been with the government of Connecticut...

It is not improbable that after the supremacy of the English had been fully established in the west end of Long George Stone Benedict (Kenyon College, Gambier), only son of George A. and Sarah Rathbone Benedict, after leaving the navy, and until his early and tragic death, was associated with his father in the Cleveland Herald. He married Clara Woolson, youngest daughter of Charles Jarvis and Hannah Cooper Pomeroy Woolson, daughter—Clare Rathbone Benedict.

The following public and private tributes have been chosen out of many in the hope of giving a faint picture of George Stone Benedict.

"One of the kindest of gentlemen, the truest of friends, and the whitest of human souls, passed from this world when in the awful Hudson River catastrophe perished George S. Benedict. In personal character and private life, he had few equals among the young men of the day. His youth had been irreproachable; as a son, we believe, he had never caused his father an anxious thought or his mother a reproachful tear... Self-possessed, courteous in his demeanour to all, under all circumstances, he was, by every one who knew him, sincerely respected...."

"He needs no written eulogy. The friends of his boyhood and his ripening manhood are yearning for a presence so suddenly vanished and are holding in tenderness the memories of his spotless life."

"Self-contained, never giving way to hasty temper, of good judgment, modest in presenting his opinions, of spotless honour, and unswerving honesty, he presented a rare combination of virtues and a remarkable freedom from follies and vices."

"Every one who knew him at all intimately, knows how conciliatory, how even-tempered, how forbearing he was,—how willingly, out of the goodness of his generous heart, he gave to others more than their due, and claimed for himself less than his own... Never did he for a moment forget that gentleness, which is the truest type of the truest man, and that same sense of honour, that kindly feeling which made him the good husband, the good son, the dear companion and friend, governed him in his relations with men at large."

"With the fearful crash that brought death and desolation so near to us, when that young life went out, there perished one, who in his sphere had few peers and no superiors—received a grant of land from the town of Norwalk for his services in "the direful swamp fight" of December 19, 1675.

It is to be regretted that few or no details of the social or domestic life, no personal traits, no characteristic incidents of the First Settler and his wife have come down to us... The fruits of their culture and discipline under circumstances certainly not favourable, are conspicuous enough in the character and lives of their children and children's children; and proves him to have been a wise and prudent father, and her, a judicious and faithful mother. The love which united them at the beginning kept them united to the end, and his Will, probably one of the last acts of his life, is full of evidences of thoughtful affection for his wife; his great concern seeming to have been to secure her comfort when he should be able to provide for it no longer.

1, Thomas Bennidick of Norwalk in ye County of Fairfield, in ye Colony of Conecticut, aged about 73 years, being weak of body, yet of perfect mind and memory, do make and declare this as my last Will and Testament.

"I do commend my Soule into ye hands of my gracious God yt hath made it, and do give my body to ye Earth from whence it was, to be decently buried, in hope of a happy and gracious Resurrection at ye last day."

Compiled by Henry Marvin Benedict.

George A. Benedict, son of Amos Benedict (lawyer) and Ann Stone Benedict (of Litchfield, Ct.) who removed to Watertown, New York, descended in the fifth generation from Thomas Benedict, the First Settler. He married Sarah Rathbone of Brownville, New York, and removed to Cleveland, Ohio, where he was for many years editor and proprietor of the Cleveland Herald. "A life of honesty, uprightness and gentleness. All ranks and conditions who knew him—and no rank or condition but had some representative to whom his name was endeared by memory of past courtesy or kindness—furnished their quota of genuine mourners. The kindly heart that never knew a selfish throb is stilled; the hand that had a warm and close clasp for a trusted friend, and an open and generous palm for worthy need, lies cold and motionless... Day by day, we shall miss more and more the companionship which has enriched so many years, and often will our ear be set to listen for that familiar voice, whose honest heartiness has so many times thrilled us with new courage and strength."

GEORGE STONE BENEDICT [To face p. 646]

BENEDICT NOTES.

The name is derived from the Latin—Benedictus, blessed, well spoken of. Though unknown as a proper name in the Latin, it is common, as such, in those languages of modern Europe which are derived from the Latin or are, from the prevalence of the Romish religion, sprinkled with Roman derivatives. Benedict, English and German; Benedek, Austrian; Benedetto, Italian; Benito, Spanish and Portuguese; Benoît, French; and many other derivative forms. It undoubtedly became a proper name from the ancient custom of adding to or substituting for a family name some striking characteristic or the name of some patron saint. This custom prevailed extensively in the Roman Church and does to this day. The members of religious houses usually take a new name on taking their vows, and the popes often take descriptive names, as Pius, Innocent, etc. Benedict is accordingly found in all those languages, first as the name of an ecclesiastic; and the known custom of giving to children the names of persons distinguished in religion would soon secularize the name.

The first who illustrated the name was St. Benedict, an Italian hermit of great holiness and austerity who, about the year 496 and afterwards, wrought miracles and was canonized. He built twelve monasteries and established the Order of the Benedictines, so famous all over Europe. The Order of St. Benedict has been one of the most illustrious in the Roman Church, being distinguished for the number of great men, saints, writers, men of learning, of piety and of high literary and moral culture and persons worthy to be elevated to the thrones of the churches which they have governed with great wisdom and probity.

Two hundred years ago, the Benedictine list reached forty popes, two hundred cardinals, fifty patriarchs, one hundred and sixteen archbishops, forty-six hundred bishops, four emperors, twelve empresses, forty-six kings, forty-one queens and twenty-six hundred canonized saints. No one can doubt that the high qualities of the Order have been preserved and perpetuated, if not improved, by their love for their patron saint and his excellent name.

Dr. H.C. Burleigh, Bath, Ontario.

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Many thanks for your prompt reply to my inquiries. I shall be pleased to avail myself of your offer to review your files but must postpone it until next Spring, as health problems made it advisable for me to escape the cold, changeable weather in Ontario and I go to Mexico after Chris mas until the end of March.

I did go to Scotland, visited the many places mentioned in Alex Pringle's book, "The Records of the Pringles", but did not unearth a clue as to William's identity. There are just too many people with the same name. Since he was associated with the American Pilgrims I rather fancy he might be connected in some way with William the Covenanter, who fled at the time of the troubles when warned that he was going to be arrested. Willam's forthright spirit as shown in the town meeting minutes in Connecticut show that he was a rather independent and capable person.

However, there is one clue which might help if one had the time to pursue it, i.e. that his ggramdaughter married a Rev. Ebenezer Knibloe who "came from the very neighbourhood as her grandfather, William Pringle".

I did think that Doctor might have been a given name, like Major, and other similar ones affected by people in that era, but find it difficult to reconcile this with later references which seem to pertain to him as Joel.

I shall look forward to making arrangements to meet you in the Spring and thank you for your offer to give me access to your wonderful backlog of information.

Yours sincerely, Jenne A. Pringle
